Course Description

Credit Hours: 1.00. Business ethics can be defined as the principles and standards that determine acceptable conduct in business organizations. During the course, we will examine ethical concepts, then dig into frameworks like Stakeholder Analysis, right v. right, and many more. This is your opportunity to evaluate past cases of ethical violations while also pre-thinking how you want to lead in the organization you work for across your career. Pre-thinking and planning who you want to be and how you want to lead is a critical piece of ethical leadership, and this course is designed to build you in that process.

Course Learning Outcomes

By the end of the course, you will be able to:

1. Describe four theoretical frameworks about business ethics in your own words.
2. Apply business ethics in real-world cases both in class and through discussion board posts.
3. Integrate business stakeholder analysis through real-world cases to increase your awareness of the ethical responsibilities that exist between a business and its stakeholders.
4. Articulate the importance of adhering to and maintaining ethical principles and conduct in personal and business contexts.

DESCRIPTION OF THE COURSE:

Business ethics can be defined as the principles and standards that determine acceptable conduct in business organizations. During the course, we will examine ethical concepts, then dig into frameworks like Stakeholder Analysis, Right v. Right, and many more. This is your opportunity to evaluate past cases of ethical violations while also pre-thinking how you want to lead in the organizations you work for across your career. Pre-thinking and planning who you want to be and how you want to lead is a critical piece of ethical leadership, and this course is designed to help you in that process.

The core of this class will revolve around in-class discussions and the cases you bring to us. I anticipate rich conversations...and know we will argue all positions. That is expected and encouraged. On occasion, I'll take on the role of Devil's advocate or encourage one of you to do so in an effort to bring out differing perspectives. 9

SUBJECT AREA AND COURSE CONTENT: This course is designed to move past a surface-level understanding that we need to act ethically in the business environment to wrestling with what that looks like and what frameworks can help us do just that. I also firmly believe that we have to pre-think our decisions before we are confronted with opportunities to compromise ethically. We will incorporate current headlines into our evaluation of major ethical lapses of the past and present.

COURSE OBJECTIVES: In class, a variety of methods will be used. The course will include lectures, discussions, projects, and assignments.

Describe four theoretical frameworks (ROCC) about business ethics in your own words
Apply business ethics in real-world cases both in class and through discussion board posts.

Integrate business stakeholder analysis through real-world cases to increase your awareness of the ethical responsibilities that exist between a business and its stakeholders.

Articulate the importance of adhering to and maintaining ethical principles and conduct in personal and business contexts.

Brightspace learning management system (LMS)

Access the course via Purdue's Brightspace learning management system. It is strongly suggested that you explore and become familiar not only with the site navigation, but also with the content and resources available for this course. See the Student Services widget in Brightspace for Technology Resources, Academic Resources, Campus Resources, and Health and Well-Being Resources.

Assignments

GRADING: Each student earns his or her own grade. I see grades as feedback indicating how well you have done against my standards. Grades tell (at least to some degree) what has been learned. They are not the goal of learning.

The following represents the weight given to the different elements:

Quizzes (120 points): Frameworks, Tools, and Chapters. Will be administered in class in the final 25 minutes of the class unless you have an accommodation. It is your responsibility to make me aware of your accommodation in a timely manner so I can work with you to create the best quiz-taking environment for your success. The DRC is your best option, but requires advance planning on your part. You may use a 3x5 note card with hand-written notes as a reference tool in the quiz. Each quiz will be equally weighted and will be composed of multiple-choice and short-answer/essay questions.

Participation: (41 points): I have some cases for us to discuss, but there are a plethora of bad business and good business behavior we can and should discuss. Be prepared to be engaged and bring information to the table on some of these cases.

- Pre-survey (5 points)
- Post-survey (5 points)
- Core Survey (5 points)
- Analogies Surveys (5 points)
- Discussion Board posts (21 points): see the rubric. There are seven posts – one per week.

The lowest post will drop. In other words, only six discussion board post grades will count toward your grade.

AI Assignment (15 points:) There are a plethora of ethical issues related to AI. As such we will develop an AI policy for class and a second for business.

Team Case Study (64 points): See detailed assignment in Brightspace.

Personal Ethics Statement and Reflection (15 points): See assignment for details.

Movie Assignment (15 points): See assignment for details.

Attendance (30 points): One unexcused absence. See attendance policy.

TOTAL: 300 points

DISCUSSION POSTS:

In class discussions and projects cannot be made up. There is no extra credit available. Class participation is very important to me, and hopefully it will be to you in learning the material covered in this course. For this reason and due to the content and complexity of the subject matter, regular class attendance is extremely important! Not only do I want your attendance in class, but also a well-thought-out participation in the class discussions.

Discussion Board Posts

Post Due

Week One and Two September 6th

Week Three September 13th

Week Five September 27th

Week Six October 4th

Week Eight October 18th

Week Eleven November 8th

Week Fourteen November 29th

Online Discussion Rubric: This rubric is designed to inform how you should interact in online discussions, with the expectation that each student post an initial discussion post and respond to at least 1 peer in order to fully participate in the conversation.

Discussion Rubric	Discussion Rubric	Discussion Rubric	Discussion Rubric
Criteria	Undeveloped (0)	Novice (.5)	Proficient (1.15)

Discussion Rubric	Discussion Rubric	Discussion Rubric	Discussion Rubric
Frequency	There is no participation in discussions at all.	The discussion post is provided, but not by the specified due date.	The discussion post is provided by the specified due date.
Length	Any of the below criteria will result in 0 points: Post is only 1-2 sentences.	Post is less than 3 or more than 6 sentences and insufficient to answer the prompt.	Post sufficiently addresses the prompt with 1-2 fully formed paragraphs.
Substance Relevance to required reading/video is clearly communicated.	Post does not clearly build upon either the reading or the initial questions in the discussion prompt.	Post primarily summarizes the reading or discussion prompt. Post does not fully tie the discussion to the main themes of the class without contributing to the conversation and learning	Posts topics that relate to the discussion topic and course content; connection of the discussion topic to the course content is clear; prompts further discussion of the discussion topic; brings in new ideas and/or resources to the discussion

PARTICIPATION: To obtain full benefit from this course, you will want to attend each session and to read the required readings prior to class. You owe this to yourself and to your fellow students. In addition to the readings, you are strongly encouraged to bring current items of interest to class, whether from a business periodical or local paper. Students who get into academic trouble are those who regularly miss class and get behind on the pre-lecture videos. I will be noting participation on a class-by-class basis. When participation has been particularly outstanding, the final grade may be boosted somewhat, or if participation is below standard, the grade will be reduced. Hopefully, you will remember some of the issues we will discuss long after you've forgotten your grade.

Because class participation is very important to me, and hopefully, will be to you in learning the material covered in this course, regular class attendance is extremely important! However, if you are unable to attend because of quarantine or a similar circumstance, you will have the opportunity to complete all activities on your own. However, in that circumstance, please make sure you've read and understood the cases. Any questions can be emailed to me, and we can set up a virtual time to review your questions about the content.

Most weeks there will also be a discussion board. This serves two purposes:

If you participated in class, log your participation here. Logging your participation means stating how you contributed to the class. This includes answering questions, asking questions that contribute to the class's overall learning, or discussing a case. It could also be participation in exercises in class with your team. Just talking to someone else in class is not sufficient. I will not guarantee that I will remember every comment or question. It is your responsibility to log that on the discussion board and help me remember your in-class participation.

You can also earn the week's participation points by posting an article with an analysis of how it relates to the class content and answering a question you had, or adding to your understanding. This is a particularly helpful way to gain participation if you are sick or miss class for other reasons.

MISSED OR LATE WORK

Late work will NOT be accepted unless student presents a reasonable excuse with prompt email to me that indicates why the work was late. Valid reasons would include an illness that required a doctor's visit, a missed flight, etc. The key is prompt communication with me in these situations. For every day an assignment is late, regardless of the reason, the grade will receive a 10% deduction. After seven days, the grade received will be a zero.

Grading Scale

Per the Purdue University Academic Regulations, the following grades shall be available to be assigned by the instructors and reported when they are called for by the registrar:

P: Passing grade; equivalent to grade A+, A, A-, B+, B, B-, C+, C or C-.

N: Not passing.

Grades and Grade Reports

Because Daniels still requires a standardized curve, it is difficult for me to state with absolute certainty what grades will result in certain letter grades. Grade distribution is curved—i.e., each person's final class grade is determined by the overall distribution of scores during the semester. (For you statistics people, it is not a true curve - that is, it is not necessarily centered around the mean.) I follow the criteria provided by Daniels for undergraduate classes.

Attendance Policy

ATTENDANCE POLICY: I believe that we learn best when we are in class together. That is a core value of mine. This course also follows Purdue's academic regulations regarding attendance, which expect students to attend each class. I do take attendance at the beginning of each class and note lateness. You have ONE absence that is unexcused. You do not need to tell me why you are not in class. After that, absences will impact your grade. Attendance is 30 points of your total grade. Each absence after the first will take 10 points from your attendance grade. Use it wisely.

EXCUSED ABSENCES: However, I will grant excused absences in certain circumstances, particularly when the absence is related to university approved grief-absences, university approved activity, or job-related activity (interview, career fair, etc.).

If you have an excused absence (ie. University-sponsored event, etc.), you need to email it to me the week of the absence with appropriate documentation. For example, emailing on Friday morning that you will not be able to attend class on Friday because you are sick is not an excused absence or emailing on Monday morning that you will not be able to attend class on Monday because you are visiting family is not an excused absence.

When conflicts or absences can be anticipated, such as for many University-sponsored activities and religious observations, please inform me as far in advance as possible. For unanticipated or emergency absences when advance notice is not possible, contact me as soon as possible by email. You can always go to the Office of the Dean of Students (ODOS) website to complete appropriate forms to notify me as well. Under academic regulations, excused absences may be granted by ODOS for cases of grief/bereavement, military service, jury duty, parenting leave, or emergent or urgent care medical care.

If you must miss class at any point in time during the semester, please reach out to me via Purdue email so that we can communicate about how you can maintain your academic progress.

Academic Integrity

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY: Don't cheat in an ethics class, okay?

Incidents of academic misconduct in this course will be addressed by the course instructor and referred to the Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities (OSRR) for review at the university level. Any violation of course policies as it relates to academic integrity will result minimally in a failing or zero grade for that assignment, and at the instructor's discretion may result in a failing grade for the course. In addition, all incidents of academic misconduct will be forwarded to OSRR, where university penalties, including removal from the university, may be considered.

Purdue's Honor Pledge: "As a Boilermaker pursuing academic excellence, I pledge to be honest and true in all that I do. Accountable together - we are Purdue."

Incidents of academic misconduct in this course will be addressed by the course instructor and referred to the Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities (OSRR) for review at the university level. Any violation of course policies as it relates to academic integrity will result minimally in a failing or zero grade for that particular assignment, and at the instructor's discretion may result in a failing grade for the course. In addition, all incidents of academic misconduct will be forwarded to OSRR, where university penalties, including removal from the university, may be considered. In general, notes are "considered to be 'derivative works' of my presentations and materials", and they are thus subject to the instructor's copyright in such presentations and materials. As such, they cannot be sold or bartered without my express written permission.

AI Policy

RESPONSIBLE USE OF AI IN THIS COURSE: Advancements in Artificial Intelligence (AI) provide students with unparalleled access to information and problem-solving capabilities. However, with these advantages come the responsibilities of ethical use and academic integrity. This statement outlines the expectations and guidelines for the responsible use of AI in our course.

By adhering to these guidelines, students aim to:

- Uphold academic honesty and personal integrity.
- Ensure equitable access and opportunities for all students.
- Develop skills for critical thinking and independent reasoning.
- Understand the strengths and limitations of AI tools.

GUIDELINES FOR RESPONSIBLE AI USE:

Original Work: Students should ensure that assignments submitted are original and based on their understanding. While AI can assist in research or provide general guidance, it should not produce work on behalf of the student.

Citation: Any content, ideas, or assistance obtained through AI tools must be appropriately cited, similar to any other reference or source. You will need to go and find the relevant citations from the primary literature (journal articles)!

Collaboration: If a student collaborates with AI tools, (And you are encouraged to do so in this course!) they must specify the nature and extent of this collaboration in their submission. This includes providing details of the prompts used to generate the AI responses.

Prohibited Uses: AI should not be used to complete quizzes, exams, or any other assessments unless explicitly permitted by the instructor.

Accessibility: All students must have equal access to AI tools. If a particular tool is used in a course, it should be free of cost for all users.

Data Privacy: Students must be cautious when sharing personal or sensitive information with AI platforms and should be familiar with the terms of service of any third-party AI tools.

CONSEQUENCES FOR MISUSE:

Misuse of AI tools in coursework, which includes but is not limited to producing unoriginal work, uncited use of AI-generated content, or unauthorized assistance on assessments, will be considered a breach of academic integrity. Consequences will follow the Purdue's policies on academic dishonesty as detailed in this syllabus, which may include grade penalties, course failure, or more severe disciplinary actions.

Nondiscrimination Statement

Purdue University is committed to maintaining a community that recognizes and values the inherent worth and dignity of every person; fosters tolerance, sensitivity, understanding, and mutual respect among its members; and encourages each individual to strive to reach his or her potential. A hyperlink to Purdue's full Nondiscrimination Policy Statement is included in the Academic Resources table on your Brightspace homepage.

Accessibility

Every member of our course should be able to access, use, and learn from the materials we share. This includes all course related digital content that you and I share in the course. This approach helps promote equal access for everyone at Purdue and is mandated federally by Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act \(ADA\). We will work together to provide this access within our Brightspace course.

- My part, as the instructor, is to make sure all course materials shared to Brightspace, such as documents, slides, videos and audio, and images, meet accessibility guidelines and to assist you in making sure anything you share is accessible. If we can do anything further to support your access to and engagement with course materials, please notify me.
- Your role, as a student, is to make sure anything you post for other students to engage with is also accessible, such as peer grading, peer feedback, and discussion board posts. This expectation is built into all course assignments that require you to post to Brightspace.

- A good starting place for students and instructors is to bookmark and review the Innovative Learning Accessibility Checklist for guidance on creating accessible materials. We need to work together to make sure all materials on our course Brightspace are accessible.
- If you select materials to share on our Brightspace from Purdue Libraries catalog or databases, best practices include choosing items that:
 - Can be downloaded in full
 - Are available in EPUB or HTML formats
 - Include alternative text for written materials or captions for audio/visual content

Accommodations

Purdue University strives to make learning experiences accessible to all participants. If you anticipate or experience physical or academic barriers based on disability, you are encouraged to contact the Disability Resource Center at: drc@purdue.edu or by phone: 765-494-1247, as soon as possible.

If the Disability Resource Center (DRC) has determined reasonable accommodations that you would like to utilize in my class, you must release your Course Accommodation Letter to me. Instructions on sharing your Course Accommodation Letter can be found by visiting: How To Use Your Course Accommodation Letter. Additionally, you are strongly encouraged to contact me as soon as possible to discuss implementation of your accommodation.

Mental Health/Wellness Statement

If you find yourself beginning to feel some stress, anxiety and/or feeling slightly overwhelmed, try Therapy Assistance Online \(TAO\), a web and app-based mental health resource available courtesy of Purdue Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS). TAO is available to all students at any time by creating an account on the TAO Connect website, or downloading the app from the App Store or Google Play. It offers free, confidential well-being resources through a self-guided program informed by psychotherapy research and strategies that may aid in overcoming anxiety, depression and other concerns. It provides accessible and effective resources including short videos, brief exercises, and self-reflection tools.

If you need support and information about options and resources, please contact or see the Office of the Dean of Students. Call 765-494-1747. Hours of operation are M-F, 8 a.m.- 5 p.m.

If you find yourself struggling to find a healthy balance between academics, social life, stress, etc., sign up for free one-on-one virtual or in-person sessions in West Lafayette with a Purdue Wellness Coach at RecWell. Student coaches can help you navigate through barriers and challenges toward your goals throughout the semester. Sign up is free and can be done on BoilerConnect. Students in Indianapolis will find support services curated on the Vice Provost for Student Life website.

If you're struggling and need mental health services: Purdue University is committed to advancing the mental health and well-being of its students. If you or someone you know is feeling overwhelmed, depressed, and/or in need of mental health support, services are available. For help, such individuals should contact Counseling and Psychological Services \(CAPS\) at 765-494-6995 during and after hours, on weekends and holidays, or by going to the CAPS offices in West Lafayette or Indianapolis.

Emergency Preparedness

In the event of a major campus emergency, course requirements, deadlines and grading percentages are subject to changes that may be necessitated by a revised semester calendar or other circumstances beyond the instructor's control. Relevant changes to this course will be posted onto the course website or can be obtained by contacting the instructors or TAs via email or phone. You are expected to read your @purdue.edu email on a frequent basis.

See Purdue's Information on Emergency Preparation and Planning. This website covers topics such as Severe Weather Guidance, Emergency Plans, and a place to sign up for the Emergency Warning Notification System. I encourage you to download and review the Emergency Procedures Guide.

The first day of class, I will review the Emergency Preparedness plan for our specific classroom. Please make note of items like:

- The location to where we will proceed after evacuating the building if we hear a fire alarm.
- The location of our Shelter in Place in the event of a tornado warning.
- The location of our Shelter in Place in the event of an active threat such as a shooting.

Student-Related Policies

The Vice President for Ethics & Compliance website includes a list of Student Policies. Among those is the Violent Behavior policy, which explains that Purdue is committed to providing a safe and secure campus environment for members of the university community. Purdue strives to create an educational environment for students and a work environment for employees that promote educational and career goals. Violent behavior impedes such goals. Therefore, violent behavior is prohibited in or on any University facility or while participating in any university activity.

Grade Appeals Process

At the end of the course, after final course grades have been assigned, students who believe their grade was assigned contrary to what is outlined in the course syllabus, has been assigned arbitrarily, or has been reduced too severely due to a violation of course academic integrity policies, may submit an appeal request to have this final course grade reviewed. The University's Grade Appeal Process is outlined in the University Catalog and is also referenced on the website for the Office of Student Rights and Responsibilities \(OSRR\).

Staff in the OSRR office are able to assist in determining if a Grade Appeal is appropriate. Generally, students should not expect a grade appeal to be successful if there is a lack of information to support the appeal or if the student merely thinks that the assigned grade is "unfair". Students must also attempt to resolve the matter informally with the course instructor prior to beginning the appeal process.

Basic Needs Program

If you are facing challenges securing basic needs such as food, housing, transportation, health services, or access to technology or childcare resources and believe this may affect your performance in the course, please contact the Office of the Dean of Students (ODOS) to help coordinate with community resources. These services vary by location. In West Lafayette, see the Basic Needs Program website, or email basicneeds@purdue.edu. To connect with a Student Support Generalist on the Indianapolis campus, contact them by phone at 765-495-7797 or email studentlifeindy@purdue.edu.

Course Evaluation

Toward the end of this semester, you will be provided with an opportunity to give feedback on this course and your instructor. Purdue uses an online course evaluation system, and I will not have access to this anonymous feedback until after final grades are submitted. You will receive an official email from evaluation administrators with a link to the online evaluation site and will receive a prompt to complete the survey when you login to Brightspace. The subject line will be: Please take 2-5 minutes to complete the survey. Check your "Junk E-mail" folder occasionally to be sure the evaluation emails were not accidentally routed there. Your participation is an integral part of this course, and your feedback is vital to improving education at Purdue University. I strongly urge you to participate in the evaluation system.

This syllabus is subject to change. You will be notified of any changes as far in advance as possible via an announcement on Brightspace. Monitor your Purdue email daily for updates.

Brightspace, Technology, and Extra Credit

BRIGHTSPACE: I will mostly communicate with you via Brightspace Announcements. Make sure you have your notifications on to get those announcements sent to your email. I will make any updates to the syllabus on Brightspace Announcements. If you made it this far, please email me the name of your favorite song by September 1st for 1 point of extra credit. Your email must have your class in the subject. Also, double check all deadlines, do not reply on Brightspace calendar or task-list.

CLASSROOM TECHNOLOGY: No laptops used in class. See Policy.

EXTRA CREDIT: No additional extra credit is offered in this class, at this time.
